Version 9.1.198.1 (Support Release - 26 November 2025)

Learning Management

Improving Mark Tracking and Highlighting: Distinguishing Inherited and Manual Changes (#141315)

Problem

- It was difficult to tell apart the marks that were inherited and those that were changed manually.
- This occurred when highlighting, as marks that were only inherited were mistakenly highlighted along with the modified ones.
- The way the system tracked changes didn’t consider inherited marks, leading to inconsistencies.

Solution

- Added an `inherited` label to the marks. This helped clearly separate inherited marks from those that were changed manually.
- We also updated how we tracked changes so that it only affected the marks that weren’t inherited.
- Improved the highlighting so that inherited marks wouldn’t get highlighted.

Fix the year master data being incorrectly converted when being retrieved, and subject data not being saved (#141224)

Problem

- The Year master data is not being serialised correctly within learning management. The subject data is saving the incorrect values.

Solution

- Retrieve the year master data from the cache without converting the date converter first, and then convert it to a model that converts the date time.
- Fix the subject data not using the modal values to save.
