

Appoint an Applicant

When a suitable candidate for a position has been identified, take the following steps to appoint the new employee. Since the applicant to be appointed can be either an internal (employee) or external person, both these scenarios have to be discussed.

Appointing an External Applicant

- Change the candidate's Status to APPOINTED as shown below.

Applications

Appointing an Internal Applicant

Current employees can have different positions that they are active in and as such the system cannot summarily end all active positions in order to do a transfer to the new position.

It is recommended that appointing internal employees in a position be done according to the process described in the Manage Employees - Administrator Training Manual.
